

HEALTHCARE WORKER APPRECIATION WEEK COUNTY PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, healthcare workers have fought valiantly on the frontlines of the novel coronavirus pandemic (COVID-19) that has affected our county, state, and nation this past year; and

WHEREAS, healthcare workers have put themselves in the path of this virus in Bingham County and around the country during this unprecedented crisis; and

WHEREAS, doctors, nurses, public health workers, long-term care providers, hospital workers, respiratory therapists, technicians, laboratory scientists, transporters, EMTs, pharmacists, and supporting staff have cared for the most vulnerable populations in emergency and in-patient care; and

WHEREAS, these devoted individuals have been responsible for providing care in the challenging conditions of danger and uncertainty; and

WHEREAS, our county is grateful for the sacrifices our healthcare workers make every day, and especially through this pandemic; and

WHEREAS, the dedication, commitment, and courage of all healthcare workers, worldwide, deserve our deepest gratitude and admiration, whose service has saved countless lives; and

NOW, THEREFORE, we, Chairman Whitney Manwaring, Mark Bair, and Jessica Lewis, the Commissioners of Bingham County, Idaho, do hereby proclaim Monday, May 10, 2021 through Sunday, May 16, 2021 as

HEALTHCARE WORKER APPRECIATION WEEK

In Bingham County, Idaho, and ask the citizens of our great county to recognize the dedication of all healthcare workers here in our county and throughout the world, for the vital role they play in enhancing and saving lives every day, and especially during this pandemic.
